This intermediate-block grey, shingled residence with a low-pitched roof is 2 stories high and 3 bays wide with a single bay sunroom on the left. The symmetrical, rectangular windows are double hung with 6/6 lights, wood sills and lintels and louvered shutters.

Four brick steps lead to the entrance portico, 2 Doric columns carrying an entablature with a segmental arch. ^{THE WINDOWS FLANK THE ENTRANCE} The sidelights flank the paneled door. The 2nd floor holds 3 windows just below the roofline. Shubbery partially hides the shingle sunroom from view, though large windows (Possible French or Louvered) are visible.

A central single, squat dormer with ventilated openings for ventilation punctuates the roofline.
